Matching Gift Programs

In December 2014 the Board of Directors voted to continue the dollar for dollar match up to $50,000 per household, per year.

Contributions to new or existing endowment funds may be eligible for the dollar for dollar match during 2015.

The Foundation continues to offer a two for one match for contributions to three special funds:

- Early Readers Fund (supports Dolly Parton's Imagination Library)
- Indiana University Southeast Scholarship Fund
- CFSI Harrison County Youth Philanthropy Fund

In addition, the Foundation is conducting special two for one match initiatives for select organizations throughout 2015.

Establishing a New Fund

The Foundation offers a variety of funds designed to be responsive to donor needs. Scholarship and designated endowment funds are permanent funds in which the assets are owned by the Foundation and managed according to its charitable purposes. Since one of the goals of endowed funds is to preserve the principal, only the spendable amount (currently 5% of the fund's balance) is available for distribution. The current minimum gift to establish a scholarship or designated endowment fund is $5,000.

The Foundation offers Endowed Donor Advised Funds. A minimum gift of $25,000 is required to establish one of these permanent funds which allows the founding contributor to recommend grants from the spendable amount.

Charitable Gift Annuities, a guarantee of income for the donor with the remainder benefiting a specific fund or purpose, along with various other current gift and estate gift planning options, are available through the Foundation.

Gifts of Agricultural Products such as grain, livestock, or timber may be donated to the Foundation. Directly donating these assets or stocks and securities may provide the donor with tax benefits. Proceeds from the sale of these items are deposited in the endowment fund of the donor's choice.

Contact the office for more information or go the Foundation's website and click on Plan Now Give Later for examples and illustrations.

Jump Start Program

Pre-school student of Morgan Elementary School

Armed with the knowledge of how vital early childhood education is to the success of an individual student and the community as a whole, the Harrison County Community Foundation embarked on an ambitious project to address kindergarten readiness and the need for quality preschool in the community. HCCF began a 5 year pilot program to fund preschool for low-income children at several locations throughout the county.

HCCF made funding available for up to 220 slots of full day preschool. Local public and faith based schools as well as private providers were invited to participate. Harrison County Community Services (HCCS) was engaged to verify income eligibility of families and children. A total of 112 children participated beginning with the 2014-15 school year.

The State of Indiana utilizes the Paths to Quality early childhood certification program which is administered locally by the Southern Indiana Economic Opportunity Corporation, Inc. (SIEOC). Through SIEOC, HCCF also made funding available to preschool providers to purchase needed equipment, send staff members to required training, and obtain Paths to Quality certification.

Healthy Families is a state-funded program designed to assist in parenting skills and promote early childhood development. To expand the number of families receiving this vital support, HCCF is funding an additional Healthy Families caseworker in Harrison County.

A final component of Jump Start is evaluation of program effectiveness. Indiana University Southeast Applied Research and Education Center (AREC) has been contracted to perform third-party pre and post preschool student assessments.

Pictured at the right are Shanon Brown and her son Colton, participants of the Healthy Families Program. Once a week a Healthy Families caseworker meets with Shanon and Colton to discuss Colton's development, to give ideas on how to continue his progress, as well as discuss other parenting skills and tips.

Imagination Library

Dolly Parton's Imagination Library is available at no cost to all children under the age of five who live in Harrison County. Each month a carefully selected book is mailed in the child's name to their home. Reading regularly to young children provides a boost toward a successful education.

"This program is one of the most important ways I know to improve the education opportunities for children in your community!" says Dolly Parton.

Thanks to HCCF, an average of 1,487 Harrison County children received books monthly in 2014. Parents may register online at imaginationlibrary.com or stop by the Foundation's office to pick up a brochure/registration form.

Dictionary Project

The Dictionary Project is a nonprofit organization with the goal of assisting all students in becoming good writers, active readers, creative thinkers, and resourceful learners by providing them with their own personal dictionary. HCCF began partnering with The Dictionary Project in 2008 to provide a dictionary as a gift to each third grade student, classroom teachers, and the school library throughout every elementary school in Harrison County. The dictionaries are a gift to use at school and at home for years to come. Third graders are targeted because this is the age where children transition from "learning to read" to "reading to learn". A total of 496 dictionaries were delivered at the beginning of the school year.

Mr. Duff's 3rd Grade Class at Lanesville Elementary School sign their names in their new dictionaries.

Youth Philanthropy Council

The Harrison County Youth Philanthropy Council (YPC) is designed to encourage youth, grades 7th thru 12th, to give and serve in their communities and to make philanthropy a “habit of the heart” for future generations.

Gift VI: A New Opportunity

Builder's Funds – unrestricted funds that Help Build Our Future.

In July 2014, Lilly Endowment, Inc. announced a statewide challenge grant to community foundations in Indiana. This is the first time HCCF has been invited to participate in a Lilly Endowment Challenge Initiative and it put the Foundation in a position to leverage money into Harrison County. One of the criteria for receiving the match requires the Foundation to raise $250,000 from the community in unrestricted funds.

Unrestricted funds are not designated for a specific organization or purpose. Instead these funds provide the flexibility that allows them to be used to meet the ever-changing needs of the community. Unrestricted funds enable the HCCF Board of Directors to undertake proactive grant making and support large scale community initiatives. By raising $250,000 in unrestricted funds, HCCF will receive a $250,000 match in unrestricted funds from the Lilly Endowment, Inc.

In response to this opportunity, HCCF is now offering named “Builder's Funds.” These funds are structured very similar to designated funds and may be used to carry on the name of a loved one or reflect a family's tradition of giving. The income from these funds will be pooled together and used for various programs and projects that help build the future of our community. The minimum gift required to create a named Builder's Fund is $2,500.

Earning the College Success County Award

The Indiana College Success County award is presented to counties who establish a College Success Coalition of community organizations that work together to increase college access and success. To earn the Indiana College Success County award, member organizations created a data-driven strategic plan and documented locally implemented activities designed to increase the percentage of the community's recent high school graduates and returning adults who earn a postsecondary credential including one-year workforce certificates, two and four year college degrees, apprenticeships and military training. The county also received a small startup grant and on-going technical assistance from the state to support the coalition's development.

The award comes in the form of a road sign proclaiming Harrison County as an Indiana College Success County. The coalition plans to display the sign on one of the major entrance roads to the county.
